Hypertherm® Is Your Plasma System Cutting It?

Can your plasma remove welded attachments in a single pass?

You can with Hypertherm's FlushCut™ consumables!

Close cutting applications such as lug and attachment removal were typically done using oxyfuel, carbon arc gouging, or traditional plasma cutting tools. Hypertherm's patented 45° angled nozzle gives you the ability to cut closer (or more flush) to the base than ever before.

$164⁵⁵ each

For Powermax 45XP, 65, 85:
HYP 428746

For Powermax 105:
HYP 428647

Can your plasma get you where you need to go?

You can with Hypertherm's HyAcces™ consumables!

Corners and channels are typically the most challenging applications. Patented HyAccess™ consumables add extra length and a narrower profile. The result is increased visibility and accessibility in these hard to reach places where standard consumables can't reach.

$96⁰⁰ each

Can your plasma reach your goals of Safety & Productivity?

You can with Hypertherm's Hyamp™ Long Torch!

In addition to extended durability for heavy-duty applications like scrapping and plate skeleton removal, Duramax Hyamp Long torches improve workplace safety. Available in 2', 4', and 6' configurations with choice of 45° or 90° torch head. Also available in 25' or 50' lead options.
