RE: Storage Tank Access for Deliveries in Winter

As the winter season is upon us, Purity Cylinder Gases would like to provide our bulk gases customers a reminder regarding the access required for delivery of bulk gases to storage tanks at customer sites.

Purity bulk distribution vehicles (tractor trailers) require a clear path of ingress and egress to and from storage facilities that is free of obstructions including significant accumulations of snow and ice. Please consider expected deliveries during and following winter storms and act as necessary to ensure that the delivery path has been adequately cleared. In addition, salting/sanding of the delivery area should be performed to reduce the risk of slipping.

The area in front of the tank (i.e. fill connections) should be cleared carefully by hand shoveling. Please do not operate snow removal equipment or dump snow or ice inside the fence line of the storage tank since industrial gas piping and associated equipment (i.e. gauges, valves, regulators, and safeties) can become damaged and not function properly.

With these actions, you can promote reliability in Purity's service to you as well as promote a safe work environment. In the event you have any questions or concerns regarding delivery access to storage tanks or the condition of associated equipment, feel free to call me at (616) 532-2375. Thank you for your attention and best wishes for a safe and productive winter season.

Sincerely,

PURITY CYLINDER GASES, INC.
